

TWO PARTIES FOR DEBUTANTES TODAY

Mrs. Lansing Gives Buffet Luncheon and the Harris Ball Tonight.

DANCE TO BE AT PLAYHOUSE

Many Guests to Be Present at This Evening's Festivities.

The younger set in society, and particularly the debutantes, are the center of interest at two parties today, at the buffet luncheon which Mrs. Lansing, the wife of the Secretary of State gave for her niece, Miss Natalie Dulles, of Watertown, N. Y., who is spending the winter in Washington, and at the dance which Rear Admiral Frederic R. Harris, chief of the Bureau of Yards and Docks, and Mrs. Harris will give at the Playhouse this evening in compliment to Miss Reeves Harris, debutante daughter of Mrs. Parsons, wife of Archibald Livingston Parsons, naval constructor, U. S. N.

Mrs. Lansing's guests numbered about thirty. The table was adorned with a centerpiece of ferns and white carnations.

Artistically Decorated. The Playhouse for the dance tonight has been artistically decorated with smilax, ferns, and yellow roses. A seated supper will be served at midnight at small tables, each adorned with yellow roses.

Mrs. Harris will be assisted in receiving the guests by Mrs. Parsons, Miss Harris, and Mrs. Harris' house guests, Miss Dorothy Kavin and Miss Marie Kavin, of Brooklyn, N. Y.

Mrs. Harris will wear a stunning imported gown of turquoise blue and silver brocade, artistically draped in flowing, princess lines. The bodice is outlined with pearls and held with pearl straps, and is made with one flowing sleeve of taupe colored tulle.

Gowned in Blue. Mrs. Parsons will be gowned in turquoise blue tulle over flesh colored satin, made with a bodice of silver lace and iridescent trimmings. Miss Harris will wear a dainty frock of flesh colored tulle cloth over an underdress of pale pink tulle, trimmed with iridescent bandings.

Mrs. John Foster Dulles will come to Washington next Monday from her home in New York to spend a week with the Secretary of State and Mrs. Robert Lansing.

Mrs. Lansing will be at home tomorrow afternoon.

SOCIETY AT MORAN BALL

Residential and Official Washington Represented at Gathering.

A brilliant gathering of residential and official society attended the reception and ball given by Mrs. F. B. Moran last evening at her residence in Massachusetts avenue to greet the chief of staff of the army, Maj. Gen. Hugh L. Scott, U. S. A., and Mrs. Scott, the honor guests, and other officers of the army, navy and marine corps and their wives, who were in the receiving party.

Reception Starts at 9:30.

The reception began at 9:30 and lasted until 11, and the dancing continued for several hours longer. A substantial old-fashioned elaborate Virginia supper was served at midnight. A string orchestra played. Mrs. Moran was assisted in receiving by General and Mrs. Scott, Mrs. Glennon, wife of the commandant of the navy yard; Mrs. Patrick, wife of the commanding officer of the barracks; Mrs. Cole, of Nashville, Tenn.; Miss Temple, of Knoxville, and Mrs. Margaret Reynolds, of Jackson, Mich. The decorations were an elaborate arrangement of palms and poinsettias.

Mrs. Moran wore a beautiful gown of white satin bagged in pale and dark blue flowers shot with silver, with draperies of dull and burnished silver lace and long train of the brocade. The décolleté bodice was finished with the dull silver lace, with angel sleeves of silver tulle. Her costume was set off by a diamond tiara. Her daughter, Mrs. Malcolm McConline, wore a gown of gold embroidered in forget-me-nots. Mrs. Horace Macfarland, another daughter, wore gray velvet with sequins and gray tulle. Mrs. Scott, the guest of honor, wore gold net with touches of purple velvet.

Among Those Present.

Among the guests were the Secretary of War and Mrs. Newton Baker, Lieut. Gen. Nelson A. Miles, Maj. Gen. and Mrs. George Barnett, Senator and Mrs. Miles, Pomerehne, Congressman and Mrs. Joe Eagle, Congressman and Mrs. Henry Flood, and Miss Hildegard Portner, Mr. and Mrs. William Dennis, Rev. and Mrs. Ward Denys, the Misses Denys, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Thropp, Mrs. W. R. Reynolds, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Warren, Mr. and Mrs. Gibson Fahnestock, Miss Margaret Fahnestock, Mr. and Mrs. Leroy Tuttle, the Misses Tuttle, Col. and Mrs. Charles W. Kutz, Miss Emily Kutz, Mrs. Ethel Harriman, Miss Ruth Wilson, Mrs. Archibald Grace, Miss Edith Grace, Miss Pauline Kindeberger, Surgeon General Rupert Blue, Brig. Gen. and Mrs. George Scriven, the Misses Scriven, Rear Admiral and Mrs. Frederic R. Harris, Maj. Gen. A. W. Greely, Miss Gertrude Greely, and Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Burleigh Milton.

The second in a series of concerts arranged by Mrs. George P. Eustis will take place tomorrow afternoon at the Playhouse. The boxes have been taken by Mrs. Levi P. Morton, Mme. Hauge, and Mrs. Thomas F. Walsh.

JUDGE ADAMSON ON HIS HONEYMOON

Author of Eight-Hour Law Married Mrs. Ellen Z. Camp Yesterday.

Congressman W. C. Adamson of Georgia, chairman of the House Committee on Interstate Commerce, and Mrs. Ellen Z. Camp, of Newman, Ga., were married at Newman yesterday. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. E. W. Stone, of Newman, at the home of Mrs. I. N. Orr, Jr., a sister of the bride.

Congressman and Mrs. Adamson left shortly after the ceremony for this city. Mr. Adamson is the author of the Adamson act which was passed by Congress last year when a nation-wide railroad strike was threatened. Mrs. Adamson is a native of Georgia, being the daughter of the late Capt. Thomas E. Zellars, of Grantville. She is the widow of Abner Camp, and resided at Grantville until the death of Mr. Camp four years ago. The wedding was not previously announced, and few were aware that it was to take place today.

Wedding Solemnized.

A pretty, though quiet wedding took place yesterday morning in the rectory of St. Peter's Church, when Miss Louise M. Hance, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Louise S. Hance, became the bride of George C. Collier. The Rev. J. L. Weidenhan officiated in the presence of a small company of relatives and intimate friends only.

The bride's only attendant was the bridegroom's sister, Miss Nelly Collier, and the best man was William Yerkes. The bride and bridegroom left immediately after the ceremony for a short trip through the East. They will be at home after January 15 at the Folger, in this city. Mr. Collier is well known in Washington athletic circles.

Miss Siddons Playing.

Miss Mary Elizabeth Siddons, great-granddaughter of the illustrious Siddons, is playing this week Thursday and Friday in John Masenfeld's "Tragedy of Nan," with the Drama League Players.

Capt. Joseph P. McCrink called on Admiral George Dewey yesterday and wished him a happy New Year. Captain McCrink served on the United States steamer Boston as chief machinist in Admiral Dewey's fleet in the Philippines. After returning home he, with a number of his shipmates, organized the Admiral George Dewey Naval Command of Spanish War Veterans in honor of the hero of Manila bay.

SIAMESE MINISTER HOST

Entertain at Dinner in Honor of Prince Mahidol.

The Siamese minister, Phya Prabha Karavongse, was host at dinner last evening, when he entertained in honor of his royal highness Prince Mahidol, brother of the King of Siam. Those asked to meet the prince were the Secretary of State, the Secretary of the Navy, the Japanese ambassador, the Chinese minister, Senator Gilbert Hitchcock, Major Gen. Hugh L. Scott, Franklin D. Roosevelt, Frank L. Polk, James I. Westgard, of Harvard University; Dr. James H. Gore, Dr. Alexander Graham Bell and Edward H. Lottus, first secretary of the Siamese legation.

A wedding of interest to this city took place Saturday at St. George's Episcopal Church, Fredericksburg, Va., when Miss Janette T. Bowers, daughter of the late David B. and Rose Thornton Powers, of Port Royal, Va., was married to Frank Sprigg Perry, of Washington. The Rev. S. S. Ware, of Port Royal, assisted by the Rev. J. J. Lanier, of St. George's Church, performed the ceremony in the presence of a small family party, including the bridegroom's mother, Mrs. J. B. Perry, of Washington. Miss Cornelia Ware, of Port Royal, played the wedding music. The bride, who was given in marriage by her brother, David B. Powers, wore a modish gown of dark blue velvet de laine, with a small hat to match, and carried an arm bouquet of American Beauty roses. She substituted a corsage bouquet of violets and orchids when she left for a wedding trip after the breakfast that followed the service. The breakfast was served at the Princess Anne Hotel. Upon the conclusion of the wedding trip Mr. and Mrs. Perry will make their home in this city. Mr. Perry is a member of the University and Columbia Country clubs and a member and past master of Temple Noyes Lodge, No. 32, F. A. A. M.

Mrs. Spear Dinner Hostess.

Mrs. Margaret King Spear, of California, entertained at dinner on Sunday at the Powhatan. The guests were Capt. John A. Clark, U. S. A., and Mrs. Clark, with their house guest, Mrs. Patterson, of New Orleans; Captain Harris, U. S. A., and Henry Baker.

Mrs. Spear is spending the winter at the Powhatan.

Mrs. E. M. Underwood will be at home informally at her residence, 1820 Park road, on the first and third Thursday afternoon in each month until spring.

Mrs. Edwin H. Tillman and Miss Margherita Tillman will not receive tomorrow, but will be at home the remaining Wednesdays in January.

Mrs. George Bowie Chipman will not receive tomorrow afternoon, but will be at home the following Wednesdays in January.

WHITE HOUSE PARTY ATTENDS THEATER

President and Mrs. Wilson and Guests at B. F. Keith's.

The President and Mrs. Wilson attended B. F. Keith's Theater last night, and were accompanied by Mrs. Cothran, Mrs. William Bolling, Miss Bertha Bolling, and Randolph Bolling, all of whom were entertained at dinner at the White House earlier in the evening. In the morning President and Mrs. Wilson motored out to the Country Club, where the President played golf with Dr. Cary T. Grayson.

Another interesting party at B. F. Keith's last night was given by Joseph Davies, of the Federal Trades Commission, and Mrs. Davies. Their guests were Miss Margaret Wilson, Mr. and Mrs. Gerhard Dahl, of New York, who are visiting Mr. and Mrs. Davies; Miss Helen Woodrow Bones, Henry Fletcher, American ambassador to Mexico, and Richard Crane, secretary to Secretary of State, Robert Lansing.

Later in the evening Mr. and Mrs. Davies took their guests to the supper-dance at the Willard.

At Home Announcements.

Mrs. Horace Westcott will be at home Wednesdays in January.

Mrs. Allan McLane will be at home at her residence, 1500 Vermont avenue, on Wednesday afternoons until Lent.

Lieut. John Isaman, U. S. N., who came to Washington for the Christmas holidays, went to Philadelphia yesterday to remain several days. He will leave at the end of the week for his station in Haiti.

Mrs. Robert Jeffers, of Charleston, W. Va., is visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. George Cooper.

Mr. and Mrs. Perry Belmont will return to Washington from New York at the end of the week to open their house for the winter.

McLeane Returns to Capital.

Mr. and Mrs. Edward Boale McLean, who passed the Christmas holidays at their country place near Warrenton, Va., have returned to Washington and are at their town house.

Mrs. John W. Davis will entertain a box party for the concert at the National on Friday afternoon for her daughter, Miss Julia Davis.

Mrs. Haines, wife of Lieut. Preston Haines, U. S. A., who spent Christmas in Philadelphia, where her husband has been stationed for a month, returned

MR. AND MRS. DENNIS HOSTS AT DINNER

Entertain at University Club Prior to Dance Last Evening.

Mr. and Mrs. William H. Dennis entertained at dinner last night before the University Club dance. Their guests were Mr. and Mrs. H. Campbell Black, Mrs. Morton, Mrs. Aubrey Lanston, Mrs. Hickok-Riley, Capt. Robert E. Bartlett, Robert Guntrum, and William Guntrum.

Mr. and Mrs. G. Emory Maddox also entertained at dinner last evening at the University Club.

Rub Your Back! Stops Lumbago

Back hurt you? Can't straighten up without feeling sudden pains, sharp aches and twinges? Now listen! That's lumbago, sciatica, or maybe from a strain, and you'll get blessed relief the moment you rub your back with soothing, penetrating "St. Jacobs Oil." Nothing else takes out soreness, lameness and stiffness so quickly. You simply rub it on and out comes the pain. It is perfectly harmless and doesn't burn or discolor the skin.

Lumber up! Don't suffer! Get a small trial bottle from any drug store, and after using it just once, you'll forget that you ever had backache, lumbago or sciatica, because your back will never hurt or cause any more misery. It never disappoints and has been recommended for 60 years. Stop dragging kidneys! They don't cause backache, because they have no nerves, therefore cannot cause pain.—Advt.

Miss Stiles To Be Bride. Miss Dorothy Hancock Stiles, who started for England ten days ago, accompanied by her mother, Mrs. Mark D. Stiles, of Mt. Vernon, N. Y., will be married Saturday in the Church of St. Peter, Eaton Square, London, to Lawrence Charles Wellington, an attaché of the American embassy there. Mr. Stiles was prevented by business from accompanying Mrs. Stiles and their daughter to London. The bride will be given away by Walter Hines Page, American ambassador to the court of St. James. She was graduated from Wellesley College in 1914.

Mr. Wellington, before becoming attached to the embassy in London, was associated with the Belgian relief commission. He is a son of Prof. Charles Wellington, of Amherst College, and Mrs. Wellington. He was graduated from Williams College in 1912, and from Oxford University in 1914.

Winchell Smith and John E. Hazzard's Delightful Human Story of Home and Mother Love and the Return of the Prodigal Son, Entertainingly Told, Amid Laughter and Tears, Thrills and Pulsations, and the Happiest Sort of Wholesome Fun.

Interpreted By a Company the Equal to the One Employed in the New York City Production, Now In Its Sixth Month At the Gaiety Theater

The Dramatic Critic of This Paper in Another Part of This Issue Says:

A simple, timeworn story, perhaps, but tinged with the noble pathos of "The Old Homestead" and quickened into life with the rapid-fire wit, comedy, and slang of an up-to-the-second farce.

"Turn to the Right," if these words of praise may not seem extravagant, looks as if it were going to be a second "Old Homestead," historically and financially.

Here, indeed, is a stage offering that makes a universal appeal—all succumb to its warmth and cheer. Every mother's son, every son's mother, every boy who has a pal, every girl who has a chum, sweethearts, wives, the churchman, the clubman, the merchant, the toiler, every worker for Uncle Sam—in fact, men and women in every field of endeavor should see this play—it is the kind that makes the theater worth while.
